Camp History

The first meeting of the Redwood Area Camp was held for the local North Coast churches on a summer weekend in 1951 in Redwood Creek.

Meetings were held in Hammond Grove, from 1952 through 1975 on land which was rented from various owners including Georgia-Pacific, then Louisiana-Pacific, the Nature Conservancy, and eventually the County of Humboldt. Environmental activists eventually made the location unusable and the present site on Dyerville Loop Road was purchased in 1976 consisting of 50 acres.

In 1979 an additional 29.5 acres were purchased making a total of 79.5 acres. More campsites were made and more families continued to come. Permanent structures such as rest rooms were built and the water system was upgraded.

Additions and sales of land now leave the Redwood Area Camp with approximately 100 acres of land and about 1700 campsites. Storage facilities, vehicles, trailers, and other improvements make the Redwood Area Camp one of the nicest locations where Seventh-day Adventists from Northern California and the western United States can gather together and worship in God's sacred out-of-doors.

Healthy Foods Report

Nutritional Yeast

Definition: Yellow in color and with a nutty cheesy flavor, nutritional yeast is an inactive yeast that is a favorite amongst many vegans because of its unique flavor and similarity to cheese when added to foods.

Sprinkle some on hot popcorn or garlic bread, or add a generous spoonful to a stir fry or pasta sauce.

Nutritional yeast is also the only reliable food source of vitamin B12, so if you're vegan, it's a good idea to add some to your food regularly.

Nutritional yeast can be found in the bulk foods or supplement section of your health food store. You can look for either nutritional yeast flakes or powder, but be sure you don't get brewer's yeast by mistake, as its quite similar in appearance.

In Australia and New Zealand, nutritional yeast is also called "savory yeast" or "savory yeast flakes".

~ Nutritional Yeast can be sprinkled on spaghetti in place of parmesan cheese.

~ Make macaroni & cheese with Nutritional Yeast in place of cheese.

~ Sprinkle nutritional yeast on Popcorn for added flavor.

Nutritional Yeast

~A terrific food, providing nutrition, enhancing flavor, and adding taste to your favorite meals and drinks.

~An excellent source of protein (52%), containing essential amino acids.

~Gluten Free.

~Rich in vitamins, especially the B-complex vitamins. An excellent source of folic acid, which is important for formation, growth, and reproduction of red blood cells.

~Commonly known as T6635+ Vegetarian Support Formula™. This yeast is easy to use and blends well with liquids. It can be used in almost any recipe and in small amounts will enhance the flavor.

~Grown specifically for its nutritional value. Naturally low in fat and salt.

~Suggested Serving Size:
2 heaping Tablespoons

Church Library Books

There are about 300 books out just sitting somewhere collecting dust. Some have been out as long as 19 years. The library books are to be checked out for 90 days, and then need to be returned so others can read them.

If you haven't read it in 90 days, you probably will not. So please return your library books that you are not reading.

There are many library books that others are waiting to read if they were available.

Bob Howard, Librarian

Fathers, do not exasperate your children; instead, bring them up in the training and instruction of the Lord. Ephesians 6:4

Please check your bookshelves at home for Story Library Books. Several storybooks are still out since 2008 and need to be returned so that others can read them.

A Message from the Community Services Team

“Homeless”

By Karl Kuehnert

It has been exactly one year now since I have joined the Community Services Team, and I have been going out to serve the homeless every Friday morning. In watching them and talking to them, I have learned how they betray themselves into believing that everything is o.k., and how they try to fill their inner yearnings with things – sometimes alcohol and drugs and so they become unaware of their real conditions.

Then I caught a glimpse of myself in the light of Revelation 3:17, while thinking I have all I need -things that bring contentment and happiness and that sooner or later they will turn out to be a mirage only.

Abraham was “Homeless” and scripture says that he was looking for a better country. Jesus was “Homeless”, for he says, “foxes have holes, but I have no place”.

Our most inner yearnings can only be filled by “the abundant life found in Christ Jesus”, and with the hope found in His promise “I go to prepare a place for you”...and I will return to take you, that where I am you may be also”.
A home for the “Homeless”.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL AT EUREKA SDA CHURCH

THEME: 'Treasures from God'

Yes, we had VBS here at the Eureka Seventh-day Adventist this summer (July 13 –17). With Ms. Dale as the director, and her talented and committed assistants, we had a very successful week. Many thanks to Jodi Privat and Laurel Baker for helping Ms. Dale with suggestions as she prepared. Also thank you to Verda Fletcher for her encouragement.

We had approximately 25 – 28 children showing up every day for the 5 days. The children were well behaved and the help of the older children helping the younger ones was great! We started off with Pastor Spoolman giving the devotional each morning and then Ms. Dale led out with Ariana Brinckhaus at the piano in song service. During this time slot we also worked on a choir piece every day that we prepared to sing in church. We had a VBS presentation at church the following Sabbath.

Our BIBLE CLASS sessions were on the Parables of Jesus with Pastor Spoolman, Janet Margart and Claudeene Howard as teachers. These stories were also acted out by some of the older youth helpers with Costumes and a few props. Lalita Brinckhaus also told some stories at our memory verse-story time slot. Thank you Paul Dare for being willing to wear that outfit.

Everyone looked forward to SNACK TIME with Lillie Shoghi and Lalita Brinckhaus and Dorothy Price helping Ms. Dale. We prepared the snack plate ahead of time each day, so when the children came in to eat; their plate was already on the table. This gave them more time for play time rather than waiting to go thru a long line. Many children asked for seconds, which was made readily available.

Our GAME TIME consisted of 'Pin the stone on Goliath', 2 treasure hunts inside and outside. Jump rope was a great hit. Natasha Winder was the outstanding jumper. The HBCS students are asking to take the rope to school so they can continue their skills. Cecil bought them a very nice long candy cane rope. The younger children enjoyed chasing bubbles and their outdoor treasure hunt of bible verses. Thank you to Deborah Buck, Cedric Anderson, Paul Dare, Cara Dewsberry, Debbie Spoolman and Roy Weeks and Ariana Brinckhaus for helping with out-door activities.

Our CRAFTS went better than expected with Pam Patty, Debbie Spoolman, Millie Lovdahl, Deborah Buck, Lillie Shoghi, Peggy Dewsberry, Gail Pittman, Ariana Brinckhaus and Ms. Dale as helpers. One of the favorites was the Colored Sand Craft and some children still wanted to make more a few days later after VBS was over. The treasure boxes were very creatively decorated with jewel stickers and other fancy stickers. Several children wanted to make two.

Ms. Dale assembled SCRAP BOOKS for their Memory Verse cards and The Promises of God Cards that she designed on the computer. The children enjoyed putting their cards into the scrapbooks with Lillie Shoghi and Deborah Buck helping them with ideas for scrap booking. Millie Lovdahl, Gail Pittman, Ariana Brinckhaus, and Debbie Spoolman assisted the children in the Kindergarten-Primary area with Peggy Dewsberry and Lalita Brinckhaus going from one division to the other where needed.

The PRIZES were a great hit. They had a difficult time waiting to pick out their prizes, which they got for memorizing memory verses, being well behaved, and memory verse work sheets. Ms. Dale went broke of course, but it was worth every penny to see the happy faces.

A special thank you to Pam Patty for the hours she spent helping Ms. Dale at the church a few weeks before VBS. We had much to do in preparing the colored sand and assembling the other crafts. Thank you Regina Anglin for donating the 50 bottles for keeping the many colors of sand. Ms. Dale purchased beautiful bottles for the craft itself.

Thank you to J. T. Santos, Raquel Spoolman and Sarah Buck for helping Ms. Dale set up and tear down before and after VBS. They were very willing helpers and did it with expertise.

Thank you to Pastor Spoolman for his daily portrayal of 'Farmer Jon' as he told the Parable Stories each day. The kids loved it and it was good to see their happy faces each time 'Farmer Jon' appeared.
